Calrads new line of HDMI male to female extenders and HDMI extender pigtails provide for easier installation of audio and video components against walls and equipment cabinets. Created for tight spaces and wall mounting applications where a hard bend is required. The HDMI cables feature 24K gold plated rotating connectors that swing the cable plug up to 90 degrees in each direction to create a right angle between the connector and the cable, reducing the space needed for mounting by about half. These cables support full HD 1080p resolution at the full bandwidth of (10.2 Gbps).
